

Media Reviews August 24, 2011 12:13 am

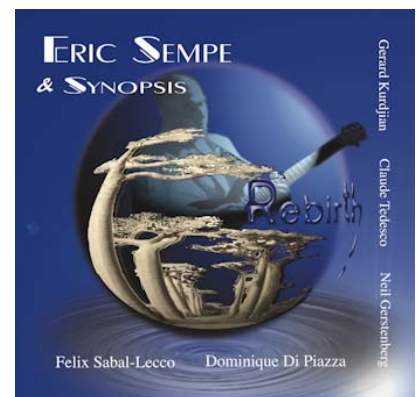

Review: Eric Sempe & Synopsis – Rebirth

*Review by Brent-Anthony Johnson
Bass Frontiers Staff Contributor*

Groove Central! Yeah! Dominique di Piazza has been a friend for many, many years. So, when he asked if he could send his latest recording with guitarist Eric Sempe, I was (naturally) all in! This is a smooth and pretty thing, and Dominique's playing is deep in the pocket – maybe deeper than anything that comes to mind featuring the great man and player!

This CD journeys deep into the land of the private dance of the soul. There is an absolutely tangible and visceral quality to this music that takes the listener on an enjoyable musical journey! This particular ensemble has been tearing-up the European jazz scene and this release speaks very loudly as a testament to the fact! This is real music played very well by players at the top of their individual and collective games!

Must hear cuts: Long Distance, Pourquoi Pass, and M'indim

© Copyright 2011 — Bass Frontiers Magazine. All Rights Reserved

Source : www.bassfrontiersmag.com/review-eric-sempe-synopsis-rebirth